MILWAUKEE COUNTY BOARD APPROVES PILOT PROJECT TO PROVIDE TECHNOLOGY SERVICES TO THE CITY OF CUDAHY

City of Cudahy will get better services at a lower cost to taxpayers

Milwaukee, WI – This morning, the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors unanimously approved an intergovernmental agreement to provide Information Technology (IT) services to the City of Cudahy. The partnership serves as a pilot project that could be initiated with other local municipalities.

“This move shows that the County Board is willing to leverage its capabilities to assist municipalities in the delivery of services to citizens,” said Supervisor Patricia Jursik, whose district includes the City of Cudahy. “This pilot project can lead to consolidation of services with the County providing expertise with a cost savings at the municipal level since duplicated services are avoided.”

“This is a prime example of two governmental bodies working together to provide quality services at a reasonable price. I foresee other municipalities coming forward to utilize the expertise that Milwaukee County can provide,” Mayor Ryan McCue said. “Milwaukee County’s Information Management Services Division (IMSD) is run like a business and we look forward to being their customer. This agreement allows the City of Cudahy to tap into the expertise that Milwaukee County can offer.”

The goal of the partnership is to provide economies of scale and improved services for taxpayers by leveraging expertise from Milwaukee County in program management, project management and technical expertise in order to assist municipalities in the delivery of services to its citizens.

“This is just one example of how Milwaukee County can provide services that benefit taxpayers through a mutually beneficial agreement,” Supervisor Patricia Jursik said. “There are many other areas where Milwaukee County has the potential to work on behalf of taxpayers to prevent inefficient duplication of services. We will be looking at additional opportunities like this in the days to come.”
